AS ARVATO SYSTEMS

Magnolia Architecture Review

Codereviews shouldbe an essential partof agile software development processes. An external review team that is independent is recommended. This gives you a complete outsider perspective.

More Good Reasons for a Review:

- Is the architecture still up to date and compliant with best practices
- Migrations and smallest updates take a long time and are costly
- Is my software cloud ready
- Headless compatibility

Your Benefits
Risks are revealed as well as effects of architecture decisions are evaluated.

You receive suggestions for the further development of the architecture so that your system meets future requirements.

We check the code for compliance with coding guidelines and strive for a sustainable improvement of the code quality. The advantage is a better maintainability of the code as well as mostly performance improvements.
